Introduction

Section 15(1) of the Auditor General Act requires the Auditor General to report to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council instances the Auditor General becomes aware of during the course of an audit which may involve improper retention or misappropriation of public money or another activity that may constitute an offence under the Criminal Code or another Act.

A matter of this nature came to my attention during my audit of the House of Assembly relating to constituency allowance claims by Members of the House of Assembly.

As outlined by the Commission of Internal Economy, “Each Member [of the House of Assembly] is entitled to an accountable constituency allowance. This allowance is for the payment of expenditures incurred in the performance of constituency business and may cover such items as office rental, equipment, supplies, secretarial and other support services, information material such as newspapers, advertising, purchase of flags, pins, etc..”

The maximum amount which may be paid to each Member of the House of Assembly varies by district and is set by the Commission of Internal Economy.

Findings

On 21 June 2006, I reported through the Minister of Finance, to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, that a review of expenditures at the House of Assembly identified excess constituency allowance claims by Mr. Edward J. Byrne, M.H.A. totalling $326,642 relating to fiscal years 2003 and 2004. This matter is currently being investigated by the Royal Newfoundland Constabulary.

I am in the process of completing the additional work requested by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council through OC2006-295 with respect to identifying any further excess constituency allowance amounts claimed by Members. My review relating to Mr. Byrne is now completed and I have identified further excess constituency allowance claims totalling $141,011 relating to fiscal years 1999, 2000, 2001 and 2002.

These additional excess claims were made by Mr. Byrne on either Members Constituency Expense Claim forms or Travel Expense Claim forms signed and filed by him with the Office of the Clerk of the House of Assembly. For this four-year period the Commission of Internal Economy approved a total of $58,100 ($11,600 for 1999, $15,000 for 2000, and $15,750 for 2001 and 2002) for his constituency allowance while Mr. Byrne submitted claims totalling $199,111, resulting in the excess claims of $141,011. Details on the additional excess claims made by Mr. Byrne are provided in the attached schedules.

Together with the excess amounts reported on 21 June 2006, this represents total excess claims by Mr. Byrne of $467,653 for the years 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. As Figure 1 shows, for this six-year period the Commission of Internal Economy approved a total of $89,600 for his constituency allowance while Mr. Byrne submitted claims totalling $557,253, resulting in the excess claims of $467,653.
